LISTENING READING

In an electronic shop

Look and guess.

Who are in the conversation?

What are they talking about?

Listen and check.

Customer

Shop assistant

1. Listen and read

Shop assistant: Good morning! What can I do for you?

Customer: Good morning! I'd like to buy a computer for my son.

Shop assistant: We have desktops, laptops, and tablets. Which one are you interested in?

Customer: I want to buy one for my son that is portable and can be used for studying and entertainment.

Shop assistant: Ah, in this case I suggest you should buy a tablet. Look at this grey tablet. It can work as effectively as a laptop. But it's the size of a book. And it's much lighter than a laptop because it's smaller. It also has a lightweight aluminium case.

Customer: Sounds good.

Shop assistant: It also has two cameras to take photos, shoot videos, and scan documents. It has a touchscreen, so you can do everything with your fingers.

Customer: Is it easy to type on?

Shop assistant: Yes, it is. There is a virtual keyboard. If you don't want to use it, you can use the wireless hardware keyboard.

Customer: Can I write and draw on it?

Shop assistant: You can use its pencil to take notes, draw pictures or diagrams, and make 3D designs.

2. Read the conversation again and answer the following questions.

- 1. What does the customer want to buy?
- 2. What kind of electronic device does the shop assistant suggest the customer should buy?
- 3. What is the tablet's case made of?
- 4. What is the tablet's pencil used for?

4. Complete each sentence with a word or phrase from 3.

1. The website allows you to take a virtual tour of the art gallery.
2. You can carry your portable laptop with you from class to class because it's small and light.
3. Nowadays we often use wireless keyboards because they are portable.
4. We often use aluminium to make vehicles like aircraft or cars because of its strength and lightweight.
5. Most smartphones today have a touchscreen which allows us to navigate, type, and interact with apps and games easily.

5. Work in pairs. Think of an electronic device and describe it to your partner. Can your partner guess what you are describing?

Example:

A: It's a small, flat computer. We can control it by touching its screen or by using a special pen.

B: Is that a portable music player?

A: No. Try again
