My city

Pop singer Charlotte Bond talks about living in London

I live in the centre of London. I love it because there's always something happening and there are people around whatever time it is. Famous people like it too – they often come here for the restaurants and shops.

I have lived here all my life. When I was little, I had singing lessons at a place near where I live now. I was afraid of the teacher at first, and some of the songs we did together were quite hard to learn. But she was good at what she did and I learned a lot of things that have helped me in my career.

When friends visit me now, I enjoy showing them around. You can get a bus or a taxi around the city, but we prefer to walk. I've got a little car and I love driving, but there's so much traffic here, and it's hard to find parking spaces.

One building I love is the National History Museum. They sometimes hold parties there, and last December, my band and I played at one. I'll never forget it. When I go to exhibitions at the museum with my friends, I tell them all about that night and how amazing it was.

A. Charlotte felt more nervous after a few singing lessons.	B. Charlotte had a special experience at the National History Museum.
C. Charlotte learned singing at a place far from where she lives now.	D. Charlotte thinks it quite easy to find parking spaces in the city centre.
