

LITERARY STUDIES
No. 6 (620)
June – 2026

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Preface	5
STUDIES – CRITICISM
Japanese Aesthetics at the Intersections of Culture and Literature
Đỗ Thị Hường	Home Sweet Home or Healing Psychology Therapy in Takeyama Michio’s Harp of Burma	6
Nguyễn Hoàng Anh	Kigo (Seasonal Words) in Masaoka Shiki’s Haiku: An Ecocritical Approach	18
Đỗ Thị Mai	Representations of Women in the Sino-Japanese Poetry of Yanagawa Koran	27
Nguyễn Thị Kim Nhạn	Postwar Migrant Mothers in Kazuo Ishiguro’s A Pale View of Hills	38
Khuông Việt Hà	Picture Brides: Migratory Obsessions in Julie Otsuka’s Novel The Buddha in the Attic	51

Trần Thị Phương Phương	Nguyễn Hiến Lê’s Translation of Tolstoy’s War and Peace : Translation as a Form of Receiving Foreign Literature in South Vietnam before 1975	63
Phạm Văn Ánh	The Element of “Resplendence” in Medieval Vietnamese Cí Poetry	72
Nguyễn Minh Huệ	Perspectives on Children’s Education in Women’s News (1929–1935)	82
Lương Đình Khoa	Ecological Narrative and Environmental Trauma in Nguyễn Ngọc Tư’s Prose (A Study of The Endless Field, River, and Island)	93
LITERARY MATERIALS
Vũ Thị Thanh Loan	Pierre Luce’s The Wandering Sisters (1927): The First Children’s Novel in Vietnam	102

LITERATURE IN SCHOOL

- Nguyễn Thị Diệu Khanh et al. Experiencing Traditional Chèo Performance through the Werewolf Board Game Model 108

BOOK REVIEW

- Mai Quyên Another Perspective of “Vietnam Viewed from the Mountains” 116
(on Ma cà rồng: Thai Ghosts, Imagination, Identity, and Society, a monograph by Nguyễn Mạnh Tiến, Vietnam Women’s Publishing House & Tao Dan Books, 2026)

NEWS

- Hải Thanh Academic Roundtable: “Children’s Worlds: From Paper to Screen” 120